Election Drive Will Close Today In Question Period

Big Vote Seen In Wednesday Ballot Session

With an unusually high degree of interest having been shown by both candidates and students alike over the past two weeks, a heavy vote is anticipated in tomorrow's elections for the Students' Executive Society, the various faculty societies and other campus organizations. Voting will take place from 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.

Campaigns, marked this year by a higher standard of open publicity in an effort to bring student issues into the limelight, come to a close today after a ten-day drive which has been marked by speeches, letters to the editor and an abundance of colorful posters. These activities will be climaxed tonight in a question period for the four candidates for president of the S.E.S. This session is scheduled for five o'clock in the Union and will be attended by the four men in question, Hugh Borsman, Mike Oliver, Eddie Ballon and Dave Townsend.

Among issues which have come to the fore in the current campaign are those concerning the status of fraternities at McGill, the problem of racial discrimination on the campus, general attitudes toward broadening of student democracy, the relation of students to athletic activities, and the problems of campus life generally.

Last night Dawson students had an opportunity to hear the candidates discuss their programs and answer questions pertaining both to them and to the more specialized Dawson aspects of campus life. Polling will take place at the St. Johns college in the gymnasium, and a higher degree of interest than in the past is anticipated.

On the McGill campus, polling booths will be set up tomorrow in various buildings so that all students will be able to cast ballots with a minimum of inconvenience. For Arts and Science, the booths will be located in the men's and women's common rooms of the Arts Building, as well as the R.V.C. Common room. Women students in Science who are not in residence will vote in the Chemistry Building. Commerce students will cast ballots in the men's common room of the Arts Building. Members of engineering, medicine and other

Harri Blasts Opponents in Cartier Clash

Maurice Harri, K.C., the political opponent of Michael Buhay in the coming Cartier by-election, spoke to a gathering sponsored by the McGill Liberal Club, in the Union Music Room yesterday.

After having told the assembly that he never prepared speeches, Mr. Harri spoke for an hour and a half, and covered a great deal of political ground. In reference to his present campaign as a liberal candidate in the by-election, Mr. Harri mainly stressed the point that the "Cartier constituency was carved out so that the Jews could voice their opinion as a group, through their representative at the federal House. Mr. Harri claims that he is justified in running for candidate in that constituency, being himself of the Hebrew faith, one of those "who for 2,000 years have tried to explain (their) point of view to the Gentiles."

Giving justification to the statement made about him in the latest issue of "Time" magazine, Mr. Harri slashed out with biting remarks about his various opponents in the Quebec House. Mr. Harri further attacked the platform of his L.P.P. opponent Michael Buhay, and concluded on a quotation from Voltaire: "I don't believe a word of what you say, but I'll fight to death to preserve your right to say it," which he holds as one of his main beliefs.

Women's New Editor Appointed to Exec.

The Women's News Editor of The Daily will henceforth be recognized as a member of the women's Union Executive, but will not have a vote. This was decided in a general meeting of the Women's Union yesterday in RVC at 4 p.m., when the amendment to the constitution was passed.

Previous to now, the Executive has consisted of five officers, they being the President, Vice President, Treasurer, and the MWSSA representatives. During the meeting on the Union and MWSSA present the various candidates for positions and their platforms and answered questions of the electorate.

"Carnival in Flanders": Tonight at 8

The McGill Film Society will feature "Carnival in Flanders" tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 250 of the Biology Building. The film runs for approximately one hour and a half, so the usual 5 o'clock afternoon showing will not be held.

"Carnival in Flanders" is the movie version of the Spanish invasion of Flanders in the 18th Century. It has a French dialogue with English subtitles but the story is made so obvious by the action that neither one is really necessary. The occupation of a Flemish town by a Spanish regiment is treated with a distinctly continental flavour. The frankness with which the details of the occupation are depicted has made the film unsuitable for showing in public theatres.

Although graduates are quite welcome at this evening's program, it is intended primarily for students and friends. A short publicity film for the current Combined Charities campaign will also be shown. The complete program will be about two hours long.

Dawson Invites RVC To Athletics Night

Attention of all women students is called to Athletics Night and Dance which is being held at Dawson College on Thursday, March 6. Girls from McGill Campus are urged by the executive of the Women's Union to lend their full support to this social event, since they have been specially invited to attend.

Including the costs of transportation, the dance, and refreshment, the tickets are on sale for 50 cents, at the Arts Building (from Miss Joan Hatcher), the Tuck Shop, and at R.V.C. Buses are to leave Roddick Gates at 7.00 p.m.

LOST

One large black note book, in the vicinity of Room 44 of the Arts Building, containing important Law notes. If found, kindly call Frank at CR. 0004, or leave with Walter in Arts Bldg.—Reward.

Engineers Will Take Second Dawson Year

Engineering students at Dawson now will spend another academic year on the St. Johns campus, as that Branch of the University will be used for all male students in First and Second Year of Science and Engineering. It was announced in a release from the Principal's office.

Starting from June 1 of this year, Arts and Commerce courses in all years will be given in Montreal, while Dawson is used as a Junior division of the University for pure and applied science. Plans are under way to develop laboratories there so that Honors students in Science II can be accommodated, as well as the large group of Second Year engineers and the incoming classes.

Facilities on the McGill campus proper cannot be expanded at the present time to take care of any faculty, and the Building has had a floor added and extensions made in front. It is felt that with the first two years of the course given at Dawson, McGill's equipment and space can be used to better advantage by students in completing their work. Similarly Third and Fourth Year Science students will have a better chance to do their practical work with the large Second Year class housed at Dawson.

All students taking courses at Dawson will be required to live there, but those in the Second Year may obtain permission to commute from Montreal from the Principal of the College.

These arrangements, it is stated, will be in force at any rate for the next two sessions.

Balkan Visitors Meet Thurs: Plan 1st Trip

On Thursday at 1 o'clock in the Music Room of the Union there will be a meeting of all those who have been chosen for the trip to Yugoslavia (First Group). All students who have applied for the second group or those who are interested in the subject are invited to attend this meeting, the first of a series organized in relation to the coming European expedition.

Leon Davichio will present a short summary of the history and geography of Yugoslavia and will at the same time announce what progress has been done as far as the two groups' trips are concerned. After this, a question period will follow. At the time of going to press the following announcement was made: "Yugoslav visas have been granted all those who have applied (First group)."

The tentative program of the first group's trip is: Montreal-France, One week in Paris, Paris-Prague, 3 weeks in Prague, Prague-Belgrade, about one month in Belgrade, Yugoslavia-Montreal by boat.

Taking into consideration the fact that the Daily will stop publication on March 13, interested students are reminded that after this date all information will be published in weekly or daily reports posted on the board in the McGill Union.

Parliament To Hear Health Bill

Socialized Medicine For Canada Planned

Socialization of medicine will be the chief topic of discussion in the fifth and final session of the Model Parliament on Wednesday evening, when the C.C.F. party will act as government. Prime Minister John A. MacDonald will head the government and the Progressive Conservatives, His Majesty's Loyal Opposition, will be led by Roy Jackson.

Health services of the country will be completely re-organized under the proposed legislation with every citizen provided with full medical, surgical and hospital care and all charges to be paid by the Dominion government. The bill, which is printed elsewhere, establishes a system of Councils that will make arrangements for curative preventive health services available without fee to every citizen. Provincial health councils will be set up to administer the Act.

P.C. AMENDMENT INTRODUCED
Chief opposition will come from the Progressive Conservative members, and they have introduced an amendment which states, "security must be achieved by cooperation between the state and the individual," and they would place the system on a contributory and voluntary basis. Sherwin Raymond, Robert Walker and Roy Jackson will be speaking for the P.C.'s.

The Bill will be introduced by John T. Sangster, Minister of Health and Welfare in the C.C.F. government. Dave Mackenzie will be speaking for the Liberals, who together with the L.P.P. group will be occupying the seats on the left of the Speaker. Prof. J. R. Mallory will be the Speaker and conduct the proceedings of the house during the question period and the main discussion.

PC Amendment To Health Bill

Below is the text of the Progressive Conservative Amendment to the CCF Bill which will be presented at Wednesday's Model Parliament:

That clauses 1 to 6 be deleted and the following be added so that the bill reads as follows:

The provisions of the National Health Services Act shall be based on the following general principles:

1) That there shall be set up a positive national health programme, including improved nutritional standards for the coordination and expansion of all efforts directed towards the prevention and control of disease and the improvement of health; the programme to include maternity and child welfare, home nursing, school medical care, industrial medical services, physical education, medical research and the establishment of regional health centres.

2) The system shall be based on a contributory and voluntary basis with special assistance guaranteed to those persons who are unable to

Student Voting

At any university convocation or general assembly a common phrase used to exhaustion by guest speakers and validators when speaking of university students is "citizens of tomorrow." During our college years it is believed that we form many of the social habits and group characteristics which will mark our generation of "citizens" in postgraduate years.

Yet when it comes to voting, one of the most fundamental ways a student can show his interest in and enthusiasm for the part he plays in the life of his university, there is a general attitude of disinterest among students at many of our universities.

Apathetic is a word found frequently to describe the lack of student participation in campus elections. Fifty to fifty-five per cent is the average section of the student body to take advantage of the privilege of electing student-government officials. Campus elections are reportedly not bothered by the existence of party machines or pressure blocks; they are not even bothered by large numbers of ballots to be counted.

Difference in the form of student-government and method of representation make a comparative survey of student voting difficult; but the characteristic of apathy seems applicable on many campuses. At the University of Toronto voting is reported to be, on the whole, quiet, with the interest varying in the different faculties. In the faculty of Engineering elections are made gala events with a dinner, the voting, and then a mass attendance of the engineers at a downtown burlesque theatre marking the occasion. Little apathy is apparent in this faculty's voting.

From Mount Allison came the only report of 100% participation on the part of students in campus elections. Here "enthusiasm" was used to describe the voters' interest. Another Eastern University, Acadia, announced that although last year's election hit an exceptionally low mark with only 55% vote-participation, the usual percentage of voters is around 80% with a great deal of spirit and interest shown by the entire student body.

At McGill, as at Toronto, voting is quiet, and here the percentage of voters is low. Although elections are often keenly contested and much made of student government, actual figures show student-interest apathetic where voting is concerned. Western University has noted a falling off in vote-participation and plans a new system of government which will be more representative.

Very little pep-rallying and stunting was reported from the different campuses with the exception of McMaster which featured a leaflet bombing raid over the campus, radio broadcasts and appealing posters. At Western the prevailing absence of bands and parades has been attributed to the increased age of the majority of the students.

Choral Society Will Present Concert Soon

"Spring Song," the Choral Society's annual spring concert, is being presented in Moyse Hall on March 20 and 21. The program offers a wide variety of music, somewhat more complex than was attempted at Christmas.

The songs have been chosen to illustrate the twin themes of beauty and romance which are traditionally ally inspired by Spring. Opening the program will be a group of three songs written as a tribute to Spring: "Spring Comes Laughing" by Bach, "Last Spring" by Greig and "Spring Song" by Pissuti.

On the theme of romance are "I Loved a Lass," "Roaming Down to Rio" and "Madame Jeanette." Beauty is served by "Whispering Voices," "To Music," "Little Red Lark," and "Blest Pair of Sirens." This latter song is the major work of the program.

Welfare Workers Open Charity Week Drive for $5,000

Four More Speakers Will Address Students Today

Charity week was opened yesterday at McGill with short talks from prominent welfare workers before seven lecture classes. Their appeals, which were both informative and moving, were well received by the students. The speakers were: Mr. Murray M. Chipman, Chairman of the Welfare Federation 1945 Campaign, Mr. O. A. Wiley, Executive Director of the Montreal Boys' Association, and Mr. V. F. McAdam, Secretary-Manager of Weredale House.

Mr. Glenn Cowan, Executive Secretary of the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Red Cross, travelled to Dawson College to speak before classes in both theatres yesterday morning.

"Dear Ruth" Tickets Sell: Reduced Rate

"Dear Ruth", the Players Club major production of the year is being staged next week from March 12 to March 15 in the Union Ballroom. Tickets are on sale now in the Union Tuck Shop at a reduced rate to students.

Much work has been done by members of the Club in a hope to make the play one of the outstanding productions on the campus for the year, it was declared. Fred Tees has been supervising the construction of the sets and those in charge state that this will be one of the highlights of the play.

Members of the cast have devoted a good deal of time to the production. The cast includes such individuals as Bobby Robertson, Edith Cannon, John Aird, Bob Stairs and Malcolm Smith. Negotiations are under way to have Ted Root, emcee of the CJAD "Eleven Ten Express" interview some of the cast and make a few announcements on the "College Car."

Many students have inquired if they may designate to which organization their contributions will be given. It was announced from Campaign Headquarters that there was a place on the receipt stub where this could be marked. Contributions which are not marked for any specific organization will be divided between all the organizations on a proportion to be decided upon by the students' Council.

RICHARDSON, COWAN, YOUNG ALLEN TO SPEAK

Today, lecture classes will be addressed by four more speakers. They will be: Mr. Claud S. Richardson, Vice Chairman of the Welfare Federation 1946 Campaign, Mr. Glenn Cowan, Executive Secretary of the Montreal Branch of the Red Cross, Mr. Charles Young, Executive Director of the Welfare Federation, and Dr. Stuart Allen, Chairman of the China Advisory Committee for the Canadian Red Cross and the Canadian Aid to China.

U.S. Debaters Face McGill Here Today

Spotlight of McGill debating activities turns today to the Engineering Building where, at one o'clock, a Red and White team takes on highly touted Rutgers University in what has been described as one of the "debates of the year." Subject of the contest, which will take place in Room 33, is: Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry.

Representing McGill will be two of the university's best known and most accomplished debaters, Sherwin Raymond and James Hemens. The American team comprises John J. Pearson and Bert Manhoff. Both Raymond and Hemens are I.U.D.L. debaters, and both have won golden keys. The Rutgers team is also said to be of a high calibre, its reputation having been consolidated in a recent successful tour of universities in the northeastern United States.

DEBATERS MEET

Annual election meeting of the McGill Debating Society will be held next Tuesday evening at five o'clock. Isidor Rosenfeld, society president, announced last night. A full turnout is requested.

- Preventive and health improvement services.

Tomorrow's debate topic is one which has attracted keen interest both in Canada and the United States, and the resolution will be defended by the home team. The contest will be a "no decision" affair, and will be chaired by Isidor Rosenfeld, president of the McGill Debating Union.

In announcing the lineup for the affair last night, Rosenfeld extended a particularly warm invitation to the debating society members of the various faculties on the campus, as well as to students generally. Owing to the fact that the contest will be held during the luncheon hour, Rosenfeld said that spectators are invited to bring their lunches.

Campus Leader

There cannot be too much emphasis placed on the importance of the position of the President of McGill's Student Society and yet there are still many who are unaware of what the post calls for in a candidate. First and foremost it must be realized that the man who will be elected tomorrow will represent every one of us to the public. It is he who must carry the impression of McGill students to the graduates, to the Faculty, to the other universities and to the man in the street who knows no more about McGill than what he may read or hear. For this reason alone, then, the voting should be backed by considerable thought on the qualities of the four men contesting the position.

However, such representation alone is not all that is required of the President. His is the task of conducting meetings of the Students' Society—no easy job when matters of very controversial nature arise as they do from time to time. His, too, is the task of conducting meetings of the Students' Executive Council, of which he is the Chairman. The man who is elected must be able to work together with the other members of that body who represent smaller groups, all of whom are anxious to see their particular aims brought to the fore. The Chairman, then, must be a man capable of overseeing the needs of the student body as a whole, men and women alike, and must at all times retain in mind the wishes of the majority.

The President of course must be a man with ideas—but ideas unless they are put into proper effect are of no value. The men who have been nominated have all shown that they have the initiative to effect changes and to bring general improvements, the degree of which depends on the outlook of the individual voter.

It should be borne in mind, as well, that the President also has a seat on the Students' Athletics Council and on the Advisory Athletics Board, two bodies where he has an excellent opportunity to present the views of all students on questions of general policy on athletics—a topic which is usually well up on the popularity list of most undergraduates.

Thus the post demands a man of considerable talent and ability. This year we see four students, eminently qualified by past experience and achievements, ready to contest. Their platforms have been printed in The Daily and tomorrow will be printed again to give every student an opportunity to decide on the best candidate. The four have had two meetings with the student body to date—one in the Union ballroom last week and another at Dawson last night. Tonight at 5, there will be a question period to dispel any doubts about the views and intentions of the contestants. After that there should be no excuse for not knowing the men under consideration; the result should be a heavy vote. — A.K.

The Daily Meets NEIL CHOTEM

by Dita Nisse

Ed Note: Due to lack of space, the review of Mr. Chotem's recital at the Ritz Carlton Hotel will appear in Wednesday's edition of the Daily. Mr. Chotem was chosen—from all Canada—as official pianist for the Quebec Productions Corporation's initial motion picture "Whispering City."

The recent birth and new animation of musical life in Canada has brought into public view many highly talented young composers and performers. Among the most gifted ones is the pianist Neil Chotem, whom we had the good fortune to meet in the CBC studios.

Twenty-six-year-old Mr. Chotem was born in Saskatoon, where he received his first musical training, which he continued in Chicago and New York. At present he is studying under Mr. Hirvey in Montreal. Besides numerous radio appearances since the age of thirteen, directing and composing incidental music for a dramatic production of the CBC, he also plays the Quebec Concerto by Andre Meller in the Canadian film, "Whispering City", which will soon be released.

In conversation Mr. Chotem spoke of several of the most important matters in the creating and performing of music. He finds that making up a program for a concert is a compromise between the artist's and the audience's tastes. Canadian audiences are unfortunately unwilling to accept a local musician unless he has a foreign reputation. The highly organized state of the music business, moreover, makes it more lucrative and technically more convenient both for managers and performers to give concerts in the U.S.A.

Although an excellent pianist, Mr. Chotem prefers composing and would like to devote his whole time to the latter. Mentioning Appelbaum and Cable as the most able, yet neglected, young Canadian composers, Mr. Chotem regretted the lack of encouragement and recognition given to local musicians. He also deplored the tendency of some contemporary composers to misuse the twelve-tone system and to employ wrong notes merely to sound "modern". The result is too frequently music without without any spirit or emotion. On the whole Mr. Chotem thinks there is much to be enthusiastic about, in music in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

A Student Concern

(The Third in a series of four articles designed to acquaint students with the work and needs of the organizations for which an appeal is being made in the McGill Combined Charities Campaign—March 3rd. to March 7th.)

WHAT IS I.S.S.?

International Student Service is a non-sectarian and non-political organization with headquarters in Geneva, which appeals for funds to relieve suffering, promote friendship and understanding, and keep alive a sense of social responsibility among the students dispossessed by the war.

The relief work administered is essentially a student concern. The funds are spent in providing books and study materials to students and professors wherever the war has disrupted their studies. What our dollars will do.

$2.00 Will supply the notebooks and paper required for a Chinese student for a year.

$5.00 Will buy from 1-6 books for European universities whose libraries have been destroyed.

$12.00 Will provide both room and board for one month for a needy student in India.

$15.00 Will keep a tubercular student for a week at the International Student Sanatorium in Leysin, Switzerland.

$25.00 Will pay the tuition fee for one semester for a refugee student in Sweden of Switzerland.

$10.00 to $35.00 Will provide a food parcel for a hungry student.

$40.00 Will support a debilitated student for one month in a rehabilitation centre.

$60.00 Will provide a two month stay for a French student at the Combloux Rehabilitation Centre.

$150.00 Will maintain for one month a modest student centre in China. Will grant a National Reconstruction Scholarship in China.

$350.00 to $500.00 Will establish a living syndicate in India adequate for room and board for 25 to 50 students.

THE VALUE

The value of this work is far greater than that of the dollars and cents expended upon it. In some countries currency exchange rates multiply every Canadian nickel and dime many times. In all of them it provides for the things that money cannot buy.

To the intellectual life of the war-torn peoples of Europe and Asia, it is one oasis in the desert. To the student in every land it is not only the means of preparing himself to help build the free world of tomorrow, but the assurance that there are fellow-students in every land who are confident that there will be such a world and who are eager that they should share in the building of it.

To win the peace there must be in every country a nucleus of trained people inspired with a spirit of international goodwill. This and not humanitarianism alone, is the purpose of the I.S.S.

LETTER FORUM

Dear Sir:

The Student Executive Council has seen fit to issue an edict to the effect that no leaflets may be distributed without the consent of the Council. It now turns out that the requirement for permission is that the distributor must agree to pick up all the leaflets left lying around the campus. That this is a ridiculous restriction is obvious if we look at what happens in practice in the civic field. The City of Montreal does not require the publishers of the Montreal Daily Star, for example, to pick up the copies of that paper which clutter the city streets.

But there is more to it than that. The motion dealing with this ruling was put on the floor and passed BECAUSE THE CAMPUS ELECTIONS WERE IN THE OFFING. The Council knows that there is a growing feeling on this campus for open election campaigns. It further knows that the issuing of leaflets is one effective way of making a candidate's program known to many students. Therefore, one must come to the conclusion that the Council is opposed to such democratic activity on our campus.

That the distributor should be required to pick up leaflets that deface the view from the Roddick Gates may seem to be quite reasonable. However, it also means that if one single leaflet is not picked up the Council can use this fact to ban the distribution of leaflets altogether.

This action on the part of the Council can only have a restrictive effect on democratic student activity and, therefore, we are heartily opposed to it.

In addition, in our opinion, the attitude of the Student Executive Council has served to restrict campus democracy in another way. Two meetings were called (as a result of a Council decision) to hear candidates for the President of the McGill Union. The first meeting had NO PUBLICITY and the second did not have adequate front page coverage. The result was that two of the candidates were unaware of the meeting, and of course students did not attend. In our opinion, the Council should encourage open democratic election campaigns rather than attempt to stifle them as its actions indicates is the case today.

H. P. GOLDFARB

Chairman

Gil Rosenberg Election Committee

Dear Sir,

This letter is written as a formal protest against underhand election practices again becoming evident on the campus. As an example, last Friday morning in the Engineering building one of Mike Oliver's posters with the name in elevated letters was discovered with the name ripped off. Tacked back on, by the end of the next period the poster had disappeared altogether, removing any possibility of accident. The incident is not an isolated one.

It requires little imagination to see how effective even a small amount of such activity can be with a candidate given only about a week to make himself known to several thousand students, and with the limited resources at his disposal. I therefore do not dismiss these incidents as trivial, and am disgusted with this evidence that even at a university there is still so much to be learned about democratic principles.

Yours truly

Don Koch,

Fraternity Member.

The Movies

UNDERCURRENT

The much publicized "Undercurrent", held over at the Palace this week lives up to advance reports, for the film has all the elements of a thriller. Although the ending is far overplayed (we suspected it all the while), the performances of Kathryn Hepburn, who looks exceedingly young throughout the picture, and Robert Mitchum, as the unfortunate victim of planned circumstances, warrants a visit.

The plot revolves around the relationship between brothers Mike and Alan Garroway, the latter played by Robert Taylor. The older Alan, possessed by an obscene hatred for his brother, tries all in his power to keep the influence of Mike out of his marriage with Anne Hamilton, la Hepburne, and his business, but meets with ill success. This leads him into vicious acts, which ultimately move towards the "unsuspecting" climax.

The musical score of the melodrama is marvelous, particularly the main piano theme.

"TEMPTATION" AT THE CAPITOL

Apparently reviewers are not supposed to admit liking a picture but we did like "Temptation". Although the plot and some of the situations are slightly melodramatic, somehow the writers have managed to avoid cliches. Merle Oberon, as an Edwardian adventures who "wins the love of a good man" looks stunning and acts superbly, it is a demanding part and the picture is hers. Paul

Lukas and George Brent turn in excellent performances and Charles Korvin is saucily sinister as an Egyptian playboy. Settings and photography are likewise good. If we have any criticism to offer it is that the music, which consists mostly of a theme from Chopin, is slightly too insistent at times and doesn't always seem appropriate.

MARY LIEBER.

IMPERIAL — "AFRICA SPEAKS" "Africa Speaks" is Paul Hoefer's extremely well done presentation of a 2,000-mile trek through the land where "man fears beast, and beast fears man". There is a breathtaking scene when their guide falls a prey to a hunger-maddened lioness. Her furious male then attacks the cameramen, and brother, there's no fake there! It is an altogether bang-up show, cleverly alternating the horror shots with the documentary commentary, and shedding an interesting light on the private life of the African lion-hunters and of the Pygmies.

Forum Ice Scene Of Final Puck Tilt; Contest CIAU Title

By TONY BLACKWOOD
(Daily Staff Writer)

Dame Fortune's beaming smile was turned McGillwards yesterday, when a flick of the wrist assured thousands of eager fans a chance to see Dave Campbell's hockey men make their last bid for the Intercollegiate championship. Saturday night is the night, and 8:30 p.m. is the time for all good men to come to the cheering section of the Forum and witness the greatest ice match of the year against those boys from Varsity.

CHANCES GOOD

The Athletics Office was wreathed in smiles when we invaded its inner portals and were informed of the good news. "There's a hum-dinger of a hockey game," said one delighted individual, "And we've got a great chance for the title too." Well, we figured the lad had something there, and a quick glance at the records showed us just what the situation is.

It seems that during the past season the Redmen have matched Toronto point for point in games won, lost and tied, and although they have lost two of their three games with the Blues, all scores were close, and every game might have been anybody's victory. The McGillmen have notched seven goals in league play against Toronto, while being hit for ten by the Queen city men.

EXCITING SEASON

The league leadership has taken some strange twists and turns during this exciting and unpredictable season. McGill defeated Toronto in their first encounter, only to lose

RUMOR

Has it that the winner of the McGill-Varsity hockey game next Saturday night will play the University of Michigan hockey six next week, it was learned from an unofficial but reliable source last night. Should McGill win the Intercollegiate championship Saturday they will play Michigan on the Forum ice. Attempts to confirm this rumor with various officials of the Athletics Office were fruitless.

to them in their second contest. Then U. of M. tied Varsity while we were busy wallowing Queen's, and once again the Redmen were out in front with a one-point lead. Then the Bluejays edged us out in the next tilt and were in turn one notch above us.

At that time it seemed that everything was sewn up for the Varsity outfit, but lo and behold! the hitherto winless Queen's crew turned in a three-two surprise win over their perhaps overconfident rivals, and the balance of power again swung our way. But Lady Luck wasn't entirely on our side, for the best that the Campbell clan could do on Saturday was to hold the Carabins to a three-all tie, which left the standing as we see it now.

So, my friends, there's a heavy reason for you to get all hot up this week-end, and to be on hand for what looks like the battle of the century. It'll be all out for the Forum on Saturday, and... Hey!!! Get back to the end of the line! We were here first!

INTERFACULTY HOCKEY

The intermediate hockey game against Ottawa St. Pat's has been cancelled it was announced last night, because of the impossibility of finding a place to play. All members of the squad to turn in their equipment next Monday afternoon between 2 and 5 p.m.

Dawson Holds Eighth Athletics Night Thursday

Well, it seems as if the gang from Dawson are really going all out to make their eighth and last Athletics Night of the season a bang-up success. Everything in the books will be presented to the patrons who flock to this gala affair on Thursday night, and no effort has been spared to make this event a first class extravaganza.

The highlight of the evening will be an exhibition basketball game between Sir George Williams College and Dawson Seniors. This tilt will mark the resumption of a cage feud which has been well in evidence all through the season, and both sides will be out to win in no uncertain terms.

The Dawsonites are to have a completely new lineup for this battle, as all of the regular senior squad has dropped out of participation due to the pressure of studies and it remains to be seen how the mystery men will shape up under playing conditions. Yet, in all events, a great game is anticipated, and all spectators are sure to be thoroughly pleased with the tilt.

FLOOR HOCKEY

Floor hockey, too, will have a major portion of the spotlight in the big affair, for a team from McGill is to journey down to St. Johns to take a hack at their suburban cousins. This, too, should be a humdinger of a battle, as the McGillians have often avowed their intentions of beating the shem pants off their brethren, while the Dawsonites are out to uphold their claims to having the best floor hockey squads in these here parts. Some big guns for the St. Johns boys will be McCarrell, Knubley and Torrode, while the Red stalwarts have as yet to be announced.

Among the other sports, to be featured will be the Dawson Table Tennis finals. This popular sport has a big following at St. Johns, and the competition there is very keen. The brand of pling-ping played is also exceedingly high, so that any devotee of the game will really get an eyeful if he watches the proceedings.

An elaborate gymnastic display is also planned, and if it is presented will provide a great deal of good watching for the spectators.

DANCING

After all the sports have been taken care of, the rest of the evening will be devoted to the more refined sport (or so they tell me) of dancing. It is hoped that over 800 girls will be on hand from St. Johns and R.V.C. and this outstanding display of feminine pulchritude, (whew we didn't think we could spell it either) should do much to round off an enjoyable evening. The band engaged for the evening will be the ever popular Westernaires whose soothing strains have made successful many a social event at McGill.

Red Oars in the Sunset

Long months of training are necessary in order to produce the smooth precision shown by the crews in the above picture as they sweep down the course at St. Catharines, Ont. But practice makes perfect, and the McGill Rowing Club offers just such an opportunity to interested men who want to learn about rowing from the best of instructors in the best of surroundings.

Squash Men In Intramural Jousts Today

Intramural squash takes the spotlight this week when the University Intramural Squash Championships are held. They will start this afternoon and continue into the early evening. Squash has always been an important campus sport, and now all those who have not been quite up to Intercollegiate class will have their opportunities to display their wares.

That little black ball takes a lot of belting, so they tell me, and many a good man has gone down under the strain of trying to control its mad flight. Still, there will be plenty of the old college spirit in evidence during these playoffs, and none will succumb without a struggle. The first round will be played off today, when fourteen matches will be contested, starting at 5:15 p.m.

FIRST ROUND

The draws for the first round are as follows: 5:15 p.m. Summerby vs. Combes, Gratton vs. Scott, Tilden vs. Hamel, Ramsay vs. Jacobson; 6: p.m. Keys vs. Penny, Begg vs. Woods, Trotter vs. Thompson, Halter vs. Reid; 6:45 p.m. R.V.S. Smith vs. C. Fraser, Snyder vs. Renwick, Digby vs. Farlinger, Collier vs. W. K. G. Smith; 7:30 p.m. Kirwin vs. Barnard, Campbell vs. Mantha. Any player who is late for his match will be automatically defaulted.

Table Tennis Finals Decided

The Campus Table Tennis Tournament came to a close yesterday afternoon when Mo Levine emerged triumphant and new Champion for this year over a field of 62 contestants after defeating Alex Raider 18-21, 21-19, 21-18, 21-19, 21-18 before close to 75 enthusiasts.

Going into the finals, the new Champ had not lost one single game in the whole tourney and after dropping the first game 18-21, he rallied to take every game in the match.

GOOD PLAY

The play was kept on high competitive level throughout the best of seven series. In the first game both contenders played a cautious type of game to feel each other out, but in the ensuing games play opened-up considerably and was marked by several long-drawn, and exciting rallies that brought round upon round of applause from the gallery.

Levine played a more offensive type of play than Raider who had to carry the brunt of Levine's smashing fore-hand drives. Raider's drop-shots were particularly effective.

McGill Oarsmen May Compete In Olympic Races Next Summer

If present plans mature, the McGill Rowing Club may find itself competing in the 1948 Olympics under Canada's colours, it was revealed recently after a joint meeting of present members of the club and graduates who are former McGill rowers.

As one of the grads put it: "With a set-up such as you have now, and some enthusiastic fellows there's no good reason why you shouldn't represent Canada in the Olympics." And a far cry it is indeed from the set-up that existed in 1932 when McGill sent a team to the British Games. In these years, the Red and White rowers competed at Lakeside, lived on the premises, cooked their own food, and even had to raise funds for boats and for coaching.

The present day scullers are more fortunate. They have taken over the premises of the Lachine Row-

Intercollegiate Squash Meet On Thursday

The American Intercollegiate Squash Rackets Championship, the blue ribbon event that every college squash player points at, is being played this year at Dartmouth. Thursday will see the limited entry of forty vying for the singles title. They will come from Harvard, Princeton, Yale, West Point, Williams, Wesleyan, MIT, Trinity, Amherst, Toronto, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and McGill. Each one will be sending three of its top players who will fight it out with Redmen Pete Landry, Dave Culver and Andy LeMesurier of McGill for the individual championship.

The known men to watch will be undefeated Carter Ferguson of Yale who will undoubtedly be seeded No. 1, Doug Kerr of Yale, Temper Longman of Princeton, Adam Foster and Parker Francis of Harvard, Russ Ball and Ed Oliver of West Point, Stew Brauns of MIT, Zeke Straw of Dartmouth and Pete Landry of McGill.

FERGUSON MAN TO BEAT

The season's record shows Ferguson the man to beat while the rest are unpredictable as all have had a number of good wins and surprising losses. Against the above men Landry has defeated Foster 3-0 and 3-1, Straw 3-0, Brauns 3-0 and 3-2 while losing to Ferguson 2-3, Ball 2-3 and Brauns 2-3. Ferguson has won the rest of his matches 3-0.

POOL TROPHY

To the winner goes the massive Pool Trophy presented by the father of Beekman Pool. Whether or not it is filled with champagne is problematical. In any case all three of McGill representatives will be giving their all to be the one to bring the mug to Canada for its first trip North of the border. Except in 1939 when it was won by Leroy Lewis of Pennsylvania, it has been strictly an honour for one of the Big Three. Harvard with six winners leads both Princeton with three and Yale with two.

It should prove quite a tournament with the players so evenly matched. All of the coaches will be along to give advice to their proteges before going on the court and at the crucial rest period between the third and fourth games. Thursday evening is one of the highlights when the players and coaches meet for the annual banquet of the association under their president, Cadet Rusty Ball of West Point. They will play the quarter and semi-finals on Friday with the finals Saturday.

M.W.S.A.A.

Elizabeth Turner Bone

The general feeling on this campus seems to be that there is a lack of college spirit. Admitting that the large enrollment is partially responsible for this, I think that increased interest and participation in college athletics would do much to improve the situation.

Getting to the roots of the problem of how this can be done, I feel that if the control of the MWSAA budget were left in the hands of the MWSAA council rather than under the control of the Department of Physical Education, the managers would take their duties more seriously than working more enthusiastically at their jobs.

Publicity has always been, a way of acquainting people with what is happening. I feel that more publicity would definitely increase the interest in women's sports. If the managers could establish more personal relations with the rest of the student body I think that more enthusiasm could be aroused.

The Athletics Nights this past year have done a great deal to increase our college spirit. I think that they ought to be continued in the future. There ought also to be greater participation of the co-eds in the activities of these Athletics Nights.

If I am elected to this position, I will try to obtain a special budget for the MWSAA free from the control of the Department of Physical Education. As a member of the executive of the Women's Union I will do all I can to further the close cooperation which already exists between these two bodies. As women's representative on Athletics Advisory Board, I will do my best to see that their interests receive proper attention. I will urge the continuation of the Athletics Nights and cooperate to the best of my ability with the men in making these events a success.

In conclusion I would like to thank those who nominated me for this position. If I am elected I will strive to fulfill their trust in me to the best of my ability.

Elaine A. Fildes

If the responsibilities of the position of President of the M.W.S.A.A. were made mine through your support, every effort would be put forth on my part to execute fully and well the duties of this office.

My object would be, in general, one and the same as the object stated in the constitution of the M.W.S.A.A. "Article III. Object: To promote general interest in athletics for women at McGill." In particular this object would be to maintain the high standard of McGill women's intercollegiate athletics and to attempt to increase interest and participation in the inter-collegiate program and in all clubs incorporated in the M.W.S.A.A.

One of the duties of the president of the M.W.S.A.A. is that she shall represent the M.W.S.A.A. at the executive meetings of the Women's Union. In such a position I would work for the benefits of the M.W.S.A.A. members and for a closely-knit cooperative action between the two organizations.

Previous experience in athletic organizations and in the conducting of meetings is essential preparation for the position of President of the M.W.S.A.A. Positions previously held which afford experience directly pertinent to this office are: Tennis Manager of

M.W.S.A.A., 1944-45; Secretary of M.W.S.A.A., 1946-47; Badminton Manager and President of Girls' Athletics Association when in High School; Member of match committee of Mt. Royal Tennis Club, Westmount, 1946; Director of Girls' Athletic Program for the Civic Recreation Association of the Town of Mount Royal, 1943-46-47.

In conclusion I will state no rigid outline of policy other than my willingness and desire to give much time and effort to the functioning and improvement of the athletics for McGill women students.

Peggy Ann Macfarlane

In stating my platform I do not want to make any sweeping statement as to my policies towards any problems that may arise during the year, because I think that each situation must be dealt with on its merits when it arises.

However, I will try to encourage a very important thing, that is, greater participation of all the women students in the various athletic clubs.

A new rule that was passed by the MWSAA council this year, said in effect that no girl was to play on more than one intercollegiate team, excluding tennis, in any one college year. This will leave many vacancies on the teams, previously filled by girls who played more than one sport.

This fact, coupled with increased publicity should result in more women turning out for sports.

I will endeavour to increase publicity by having more posters put up, and especially by having more space for women's sports in the Daily, that is for Team AND Intersection sports.

Finally, I would like to thank all those who nominated me, and if I am elected I will try to do as good a job as this year's President has.

Arts-Science

Alex Morris

The President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society must, above all else, have an understanding appreciation of the needs and problems of the diverse body of students in the Arts and Science Faculty. He must have a wide acquaintanceship among those students, which encompasses all types of groups and individuals, and the whole range of students' activities. He must be prepared to exercise initiative and energetic leadership, in a spirit of fellowship and compromise which will seek to make of the Society a harmonious and efficient organization, effectively coping with its problems.

Some of these matters about which I have given serious thought, and also have concrete ideas as to successful execution, after investigating the background factors which affect them, are as follows:

1) It is perfectly possible to manage the dances and other social activities sponsored by the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society in a more business-like manner, so that we all individually have a happy time, and collectively the prestige of our faculty is upheld on the campus.

2) I have discussed the organization of a "Coke Bar" right in the Arts building with the authorities and found them most receptive to the suggestion. This will provide soft drinks, chocolate bars and cigarettes—not at reduced prices!

3) There is an urgent need for an organized method of purchasing new text-books, so that they will be obtained on time, and also at a reduced cost. This has been discussed with faculty members, who have made some interesting suggestions, which require somebody with interest and initiative to put them into effect.

4) The Women's Union deserves the most active support and co-operation in their efforts to improve the facilities for co-eds in the Arts Building.

5) I propose to continue and extend the excellent work of the Arts and Science Education Committee. These "Gen Nights" can be made of the greatest value to all of us both now and in our future careers.

6) I recognize the desirability of social events at the beginning of the year, at which students and faculty members can become better acquainted. Efforts to provide more of these informal gatherings will be made.

7) The question of constitutional amendments will be given full attention.

As a candidate for the office of President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, I am ready to implement the above platform, as well as any other constructive suggestions. With these aims in view, I solicit your support.

Activities: Sociology Society Programme Committee; Vet's Society Entertainment Committee; N.F.C. U.S. Publicity Director; Chairman McGill Clothing Campaign; Arts and Science Educational Committee.

A. & S.U.S.

A. Richard Tremaine

The office of President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society demands a man thoroughly conversant with the affairs of the Society, one who has had experience in their direction, who can be relied upon to carry out and amplify plans already formulated, and with the initiative to carry forward new policies.

I feel that I may, with confidence lay claim to these qualifications, in view of my association with the Arts and Science, especially on this year's executive. I further believe that anyone not similarly qualified will not be able to carry out his duties satisfactorily.

My program is based upon the following points:

1) EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE. This year, only a minor portion of the Committee's programme has been implemented; the aspect of increased cooperation with the Faculty has hardly been touched. I feel that in future we must expect and demand a greater interest in undergraduate affairs from the Faculty. Vocational Guidance, which is planned to introduce into Freshmen Reception next year, the setting up of a curriculum committee have yet to be carried out by the committee with the help of and supervision by the executive.

2) SOCIAL COMMITTEE. Having worked on every social event sponsored by the Arts and Science this year, I believe myself conversant with the duties and difficulties of organizing such affairs. Having been instrumental in once more sponsoring the Arts and Science New Year's Eve Party, I assure you that this highly successful event will be repeated.

3) CLASS ORGANIZATION. This year, the first step was taken in bringing about closer cohesion among Arts and Science students. Apart from the technical aspects such as charity drives, this can be an effective instrument in bringing your opinion in closer touch with your executive.

In conclusion, I pledge to serve the students of the faculty faithfully and to the best of my ability.

Commerce

Bill Jones

As a candidate for the position of President of the Commerce Undergraduate Society may I point out that it would be foolish of me to make election promises which I may or may not be able to fulfill. If elected however I do promise to give vigorous and active leadership to the C.U.S. executive and to drop as many of my other activities as necessary to provide this leadership.

Despite the handicap of being a C.C.F.'er, members of other political clubs have seen fit to nominate and support me for this position for which I do most sincerely thank them.

ACTIVITIES: Secretary Third Year Commerce; Executive Political Science Club; Executive C.C.F. Club; Member N.F.C.U.S. Anti-discrimination Committee; Member Veterans Society.

Jack Shannon

During the past few years the School of Commerce has grown both in size and in importance. Today, it is one of the largest units among the undergraduate bodies on the campus—and should rightly assume its important position in the affairs of the undergraduates. The only method by which this can be obtained is through a series of organized, spirited student functions.

In this respect I heartily endorse the retiring executive's policy of staging periodical "Commerce Banquets". These affairs were greatly appreciated by all who attended. The advice and suggestions of the prominent guest speakers were a source of unmeasurable benefit to the undergraduates.

Full co-operation with the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society in staging the A.S.C. Ball is of the utmost importance—this being, in my opinion, one of the finer social events of the year.

Inter-mural sports deserve the assistance and support of the undergraduate societies. This is especially applicable to the School of Commerce because of its unprecedented numbers.

It is essential to instill a sense of pride and faculty spirit within the minds of our undergraduates. The power and efficiency of a student society is dependent upon the zeal of its members. Today, we have the golden opportunity of deriving all that can be attained from such an organization because of our numbers.

If elected, I will endeavour to earnestly and sincerely carry out the duties of my office and to follow a program which is very briefly outlined above. Let us all display our attitude by voting in the forthcoming elections and by fully cooperating with the new executive in the months to come.

Engineering

E. A. Gauthier

Everyone must vote. The right man for the job can only be elected if all vote.

I think you will agree that your executive this year has done a splendid piece of work and deserves all credit for this. As president of the Engineering Debating Society I had an opportunity to work with these members. One of the many things they did was to double the budget of the Debating Society and they helped in other ways.

Several members of the present executive of the E.U.S. have shown me what they are doing and they have promised to help me next year. This will permit me to serve you more efficiently than if I were unacquainted with what is ahead.

My experience this year as president of the Debating Society will also aid me in the greater work of the E.U.S. where administrative ability is so needed.

With regard to politics I can assure you that I will permit no outside influence to affect the activities of the E.U.S. and I can say this freely because I am a member of no political group.

Suggestions from members of the E.U.S. will always be welcome in the management of their Society. Their welfare will always receive first consideration.

All possible aids will be given to assure facilities for

1. Acquiring technical knowledge.
2. Developing the ability to meet people and to establish the right contacts for the future.

If elected I hope to

1. Continue the good work of the present executive.
2. Promote the use of printed notes of lectures.
3. Improve the book store at Dawson.

4. Invite prominent professional men to address you during lunch hours.
5. Encourage the Debating Society to hold lunch hour activities.
6. Encourage athletic activities during free periods.

7. Welcome the first year representative to the executive meetings and encourage him to take part in them.

8. Hold some of the general meetings at Dawson.

Stuart Green

Engineers, 847 strong at McGill, 700 strong at Dawson, are the most important single group on the campus. As this group they require responsible leadership in their undergraduate activities. Leadership which will keep up the pride of the engineers and which will not be ear-marked as radical. Leadership which will promote a worthy social program. Leadership which will promote student interest in athletics and in the E.U.S. itself.

If I am elected President of the Engineering Undergraduate Society I will organize the executive to give this leadership. The President is a member ex-officio of all constituted committees and clubs. Therefore, in this capacity, with the organizing ability which I have shown in the past, I would:

1) Secure student interest in activities, through a close following of the Action Committee ideas (as outlined in the constitution);
2) Have a greater effort put into all our social affairs, such as the Plumbers' Ball;
3) Promote inter-departmental athletics and debating. The Engineering debating, although very well handled last year, I feel could be expanded. In athletics there is great room for improvement.

4) I would see that the first year representative to the executive had the opportunity to express the opinion of the Dawson students, so that the society's activities would be run with all fairness to both McGill and Dawson.

5) I would encourage the work done by the book service committee.

6) I would make E. U. S. meetings of greater interest to all concerned. This could be done following the plans of meetings as held by the E. I. C.

7) I would see that all recognized clubs and committees functioned in a way beneficial to the engineers they represent.

PC Amendments—p. 1

pay the entire costs themselves.

3) Social security must be achieved by cooperation between the state and the individual. The State should offer security for service and contribution. The State in organizing security should not stifle incentive, opportunity, responsibility; in establishing a national minimum it should leave room and encouragement for voluntary action by each individual to provide more than that minimum for himself and his family.

4) That pending the setting up of this National Health Programme, grants will be made to all the provinces according to standards and in amounts to be agreed upon, so that they may work out health programmes of their own.

Campus and Classroom Notes

On Education at Colleges

(The following news items are reprinted from The New York Times in the belief that they will prove interesting to the McGill student body—Ed.)

N.Y. UNIVERSITY—Conference

Advanced practices in junior high school curricula, administration and teaching will be analyzed in special session of New York University's twentieth annual Junior High School Conference to be held March 20 to 22. More than 1,000 administrators and teachers from schools in the Eastern area are expected to attend the conference, which is sponsored by the university's School of Education. Other topics to be considered include the building of emotional maturity in students, intercultural education and new visual materials.

HARDIN-SIMMONS—Transfers

One of every three students attending colleges and universities have transferred from one institution to another, if enrollment at Hardin-Simmons University is indicative of student registration throughout the nation. A large percentage of the turnover is among veterans attending schools other than those in which they were registered before the war. Enrollment at the Abilene, Tex., institution is continuing upward with 1,723 resident students registered, an increase of ninety-five over the fall semester.

YALE—British Tour

Yale University will sponsor a study tour of the schools of the British Isles this summer. The first in recent years, the tour will be under the direction of Prof. George F. Knepper of the university's Department of Education. A limited number of students, preferably those interested in teaching, will be enrolled, with eight hours' credit or half a semester's work granted upon completion of course requirements. The program is not limited to Yale students. The group will leave the United States the end of June and will spend six weeks abroad.

NOTRE DAME—New Record

A total of 4,885 students have enrolled for the spring semester at the University of Notre Dame to break last term's record-setting enrollment by a margin of 124 students. Notre Dame's normal enrollment is 3,200 students, but the university has made every effort to accommodate as many additional war veterans as possible. To alleviate the housing problem, a new residence building, Farley Hall, was opened on the campus.

DENVER—Home-Building

A new four-year program in home-building management leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in commerce is being offered by the College of Business Administration of the University of Denver. Fifty-five students are enrolled for the course. The university feels that, if successful, it would help eliminate many of the differences of opinion and lack of understanding existing between labor and management.

RUTGERS—Innovation

Responding to an increased student interest in philosophy, intellectual history and literature, the College of Arts and Sciences of Rutgers University will offer a series of new courses in these fields beginning next fall. In one new course, "The European Renaissance," four departments will cooperate in interpreting that movement as it influenced history, art, literature and philosophy.

MICHIGAN STATE—Research

Michigan State College has formed a new agency known as the Social Research Service which will survey public opinion and study human relationships. Its facilities will be offered to public and private groups. Among its projects are studies of population changes and trends, the community basis of school reorganization, social aspects

Carrying out its scheme of lunch-time meetings, the Student Christian Movement presents this week another outstanding speaker: Dr. Robert G. Katsunoff. We feel that he has a great deal to say not only to S.C.M.'ers, but to all students. Dr. Katsunoff will speak on "The Unity of the Human Race" on Wednesday, March 5th at the S.C.M.
